Position Title: Lecturer

Req # 02459

The Department of Statistics at the University of Chicago seeks to hire a Lecturer for a two-year appointment starting in Autumn Quarter 2015. This is a renewable position. Duties include teaching six courses per year (2 courses per quarter) at the undergraduate level.

Applicants must have completed all requirements for the PhD in Statistics at the time the appointment begins; applicants must have previous experience in statistical research and teaching. Review of complete applications, including recommendation letters, will begin March 1, 2015, and continue until the position is filled. All applicants must apply through the University's Academic Jobs website at http://tinyurl.com/mfu8a7a and upload a cover letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, and a teaching statement. Three letters of recommendation will be required. Referral letter submission information will be provided during the application process.

Inquiries should be sent to the Search Committee at search@galton.uchicago.edu.

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, protected veteran status or status as an individual with disability.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action / Equal Opportunity / Disabled / Veterans Employer. http://tinyurl.com/mfu8a7a